Please answer the following questions to the best of your ability. Failure to answer the questions will eliminate you from consideration. Please attach a separate sheet of paper to your application if you need more space than what is provided. Be sure to number the questions appropriately.

1. You're a new employee working with a qualified employee who dings the door on the company vehicle at the job site. The qualified employee tells you the ding is minor, not a big deal and no need to report it. What do you do?

2. Explain the research that you have done concerning the line worker and/or power plant operator and/or wind energy job(s) and give a description of the job duties as you understand them. In your chosen career, where do you see yourself in 10 years?

3. Give examples of ways you could possibly get hurt or injured at home or school. Explain what you do to keep yourself and others safe.

4. Change is constant, and that is also true in the world of energy. How do you deal with change? What changes in the past decade excite you most about the energy field?
